

Collaboration Platform for NGOs in emergency situations

What is Toucan?

Toucan is an online emergency relief platform. It enables communication among humanitarian actors in emergency situations. Toucan facilitates sharing information and coordinating resources, whether supplying food or urgent medical assistance. NGOs become more aware of who provides what services where.

It was developed with the input of NGOs working with refugees in Macedonia, Bosnia & Herzegovina, Serbia, and Croatia, and the International Director of Emergency Response at SOS-Children's Villages International.

Why Toucan?

A lot of tools exist for NGOs to communicate with each other, yet none are tailored to their needs.

Facebook and WhatsApp lead to: long communication threads, no prioritisation of issues, no map view, no closing of issues, no safe environment for sensitive data.

Toucan allows NGOs to:

- Register
- Define radius of operation (location/city)
- Create issues divided according to type (e.g: medical, supplies...)
- Select notification rules
- Have a discussion platform for specific issues
- Close issues once resolved

Project Status:

Toucan is now in use in Greece for organisations working with refugees. In November 2016, we would like to use the feedback from Greece and develop it further until the end of the year. We want to offer it to any NGO worldwide for free in emergency situations.

Partners:

SOS-Children's Village International, The Connection in Vienna, Echo100Plus in Greece, Centre for Peace Studies Croatia, Info Park Serbia, Legis Macedonia, CPI Foundation Bosnia and Herzegovina

BeeTwo

We are a social enterprise based in Vienna, a group of developers, engineers and designers wanting to apply their skills to the social sector. Our goal is to create solutions with and tailored to the needs of social initiatives. We want to improve lives and support the valuable work of social initiatives.

Who is BeeTwo?

BeeTwo consists of an interdisciplinary team: developers with a deep experience in imagining, planning, developing and passion for social impact, of designers, and individuals with long-time experience working with and for social initiatives.

We co-create with:

Social initiatives such as Caritas Vienna, SOS-Children's Village International, social-business incubators, with freelance developers and designers and microfinance institutions.
